FIGHTING FOR THEIR HOMES.

Settlers on the Maxwell Grant Open a Conflict with Members of a Sheriff's posse.

TRINIDAD, Col., Aug. 25.—What may prove a long and bloody struggle opened to-day on the Maxwell grant, at Stone wall, forty miles west of Trinidad. The sheriff's posse, sent to keep the peace, was met by the settlers to the number of 400 to 500. The settlers demanded the arms of the posse, which was refused. The posse took up quarters in the Pooles Hotel, a large frame building. The settlers endeavored to force an entrance, when the posse opened fire. R. D. Russell, one of the oldest settlers, fell dead, and two or three other settlers were wounded. The building was soon riddled with balls. The eye-witnesses gave this information left while the conflict was still going on. The citizens are greatly excited. The sheriff is gathering men in numbers to go to the relief of the beleaguered posse. It is believed that the building will be burned before morning. The settlers come from the tributaries of the Putnam river, from Yernick, N. M., and also from the Coitella grant, in the mountain fastnesses. It seems useless to oppose them with either militia or regular troops. The sheriff is sending a detachment of his cavalry to the scene. Another courier is expected to arrive to-night. The settler cavalry is composed of both Americans and Mexicans. The Mexicans are paid as for war.

A STRIKE THREATENED.
Grievances of Engineers and Firemen Employed on the Mackey System of Roads.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
MATTOON, Ill., Aug. 25.—Again there is threatened trouble on the part of the engineers and firemen of the Peoria, Decatur & Evansville railway. It is reported that because of their grievances against Master Mechanic Smith, which he has refused to give due consideration, the general superintendent has been asked to discharge him. The claim is that engineers and firemen have been discharged for trivial reasons and favorites from other lines promoted over them. The report is that at 10:30 to-night a strike is to be declared on if the demands of the men are not acceded to, and that it will affect the entire Mackey system.

The Evansville Encampment.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 25.—The largest crowd of the week attended the encampment to-day. A number of special trains came in on the various railways, and the steamboats were loaded with passengers. A new feature was introduced to-day in connection with the regular military features. It was the beginning of the Indiana Turnout, suggested by the presence of the societies from St. Louis, Louisville and Chicago. The drills by military companies were conducted this forenoon and this afternoon. The grand parade of the week was fought in the presence of 75,000 people. The entire State militia participated in the contest, making it exceedingly realistic. Colonel Kirk and General Cummings, the opposing forces, were engaged in a very spirited performance will continue on Sunday and Monday.

Old Settlers' Meeting.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
PERU, Ind., Aug. 25.—Five thousand people participated in the meeting of old settlers of Cass, Miami and Fulton counties at Macy to-day. Colonel Schryock, of Rochester, delivered the address, and was followed by old pioneers in short speeches. A log-cabin dinner and forty-year sports were prominent features; also, a public dinner to pioneers over eighty years of age. Uncle George Wilkinson, a pioneer, was honored to illustrate the mode of service fifty years ago.

Nagara Falls Excursion.
The last one of the season will leave on Aug. 28, via the popular "Bee-line" railway. Remember the date is Aug. 28, and the rate only $5. For particulars call on agents Bee-line railway or T. C. Frazar, P. A.

Wissman's African Expedition Likely to Fail Because of English Jealousy.

Herr Liebknecht Will Probably Be Successful in His Political Ambition, Despite Repressive Efforts of German Authorities.

DIPLOMATIC SCHEMING.
Belief that Bismarck Is Using Italy for the Purpose of Driving France Into War.

Copyright, 1888, by the New York Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 25.—The meeting between Count Kalnoky, the Austrian Foreign Minister, and Signor Crispi, Italian Prime Minister, at Ager, does away with the necessity of a conference between the three statesmen at Friedrichshagen. Count Kalnoky and Signor Crispi dined together, and after dinner, both granted interviews to representatives of the press. They stated that there would be no change in the positions of their governments, and that the alliance would be maintained. Signor Crispi says, regarding the seizure of Massowah by Italy, that he does not believe that France will eventually deny the right of Italy to occupy that place. Concerning Tripoli, he says the Italian government relies upon the belief that the common sense of the French people will prevent their attempting any aggression beyond Tunisia. A single rock of ground taken from Tripoli would be a declaration of war against Italy, whereas Germany and Austria would join, according to their present compact. The Count of Signor Crispi toward journalistic interviewers since the conference with Prince Bismarck suggests that his government, while protesting, will support the league of peace, and means to leave France isolated. The league, Crispi says in his interviews, has so far succeeded.

The National Zeitung to-night asserts that the result of the Friedrichshagen meeting will be a fresh note from Signor Crispi on the Massowah question. The communication of the National Zeitung purports to be semi-official, and has a serious import as stating that the time has come when Italy must mark out precisely the limits of her foreign policy. If the Italian government find it necessary to attack France, Germany must support her ally. This concurrent and semi-official language of the press is giving rise to fears that Bismarck is using Italy to drive France into war.

THE WISSMAN EXPEDITION.
Its Success Said to Be Imperiled by the Jealousy of English Military Men.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—A strange story comes from Cairo, which, if true, accounts for the effort of the Cologne Gazette to discredit the persistent reports of the plumes arriving at Saakim respecting the White Pasha in Bah-el-Ghazel. It is to the effect that English officers in the Egyptian army, fearing the success of an expedition under Lieutenant Wissman, up the Nile, to effect a union with Stanley and the release of the European prisoners at Khartoum, have succeeded in prevailing on the Khedive to withdraw his promises of support to Lieutenant Wissman and to dispatch an Egyptian force from Khartoum to Omdurman, so as to preserve the Khedive's suzerainty in the Sudan from possible encroachment by foreign powers. The Khedive's influence is waning, and the present moment is the most favorable for the adoption of an active policy in the Sudan. The dispatch from Zanzibar announcing that the German African company had assumed the administration of the Zanzibar coast line illustrates that Germany intends taking a hand in the mysterious drama which is being enacted on the Nile. The German officers are not only anxious to see the expedition of Wissman succeed, but they are anxious to see the expedition of Stanley and Emin Bey, the main object of which will be to effectually crush the slave trade in Africa.

Correspondents at Saakim continue to assert that the Egyptian force will be composed of a white pasha in Bah-el-Ghazel. During the past few days many more pilgrims and refugees have arrived from that neighborhood, and they are unanimous in asserting that an armed force under a white pasha is at Darfour, and the natives are in friendly communication with him.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS.
Liebknecht Likely to Be Elected Despite the Efforts of the Government.

Copyright, 1888, by the New York Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 25.—The attention of Berlin centers upon the electoral contest in the Sixth district. The National Liberals, the Progressives and the Socialists are watching the struggle as an indication of the tendency of national opinion. Herr Herrfurth, Minister of the Interior, has received circulars from authorities on the Swiss frontier, reporting the proceedings of Liebknecht, a leading Socialist, who is stirring the popular centers of the Rhine, and is making speeches which he would not be allowed to make in Berlin. The election is fixed for Thursday next. Despite the repressive measures of the police, including the suppression of public meetings and wholesale arrests of socialists, Liebknecht is expected to gain. Three candidates now oppose him—Herr Koerke, who is already a Deputy in the Landtag as a Democrat; Herr Holthe, who is also in the Landtag as a Free Conservative; and Dr. Forster, an anti-Socialist member. The Progressives will vote for him. The Socialists are silent.

The arrested parties are confined in crowded with men and women charged with the propagation of socialist doctrines, and the utterance of seditious cries. The Socialists, as a body, however, are not intimidated; on the contrary, they continue to circulate what appears to be a popular fly-sheet. This sheet ends with the words: "We are not intimidated; we are not afraid; we wish to obtain their rights, let them unite, so as to be able to conquer. Without might there is no right. Socialists, unite!"

Herr Richter's latest oration before the reunion of Progressives in the Friedrichshagen showed no disposition to conciliate any way, and was a declaration of war against the government. He advocated graduated reforms and denounced Prince Bismarck as a willing ally of the Socialists, if associated with the autocracy. The speaker declared that the Progressists must oppose anti-Semitism as a disgrace to the German nation, and recalled the words of Emperor Frederick: "Liberty equal for all citizens." The oration produced an immense monetary effect, and is being circulated throughout Germany.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.
The Virtuous Newspapers Contain Racing by the Big Ocean Steamers.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The newspapers almost unanimously condemn ocean racing, which they declare even more senseless than railway racing, and advise passengers to take the slower and therefore safer ships. The Umbria's best day, during which she covered 445 miles, is alluded to as furnishing abundant reasons for taking slower vessels, and the fact that she made the voyage in the time she occupied in the face of a three days sale, during which the decks were once swept clear of everything and two sailors injured, is held to refute the assertions of the officers of the vessel that no attempt was made to make fast time. The officials of the insurance company disclaim any thought of racing, and assert that the City of New York is not yet in condition to attain her highest speed.

In Honor of General Sheridan.
LONDON, Aug. 25.—A meeting was held at the residence of Col. Gouraud, to-day, of old soldiers and sailors, to take action upon the death of Gen. Philip H. Sheridan. The stars and stripes were placed at half-mast at the entrance to the house, and a portrait of General Sheridan, surrounded by trophies and arms used in the civil war, was exhibited in the room where the meeting was held. Colonel Gouraud presided, and among those present were General McClurg, Colonel Volkmann, Graham, Goddard, Reynolds and McNary. Major Hawkins and Captain Monfort. Colonel Gouraud, in opening the meeting, paid a tribute to the dead General and read a eulogium of confidence which he had sent to Mrs. Sheridan. Letters of regret were read from United States Minister Paine, Mr. White, secretary of legation; Consul-general Wolsey, and many others. Lord Walsley, who wrote: "General Sheridan was a grand fellow all round. I felt as proud of his achievements as if he had been commissioned by the Queen instead of by the President."

Commander Chadwick, an attaché of the United States legation, moved a resolution of sympathy, which was adopted. General Bray (British), in supporting it, said: "General Sheridan enlisted the sympathy and admiration not only of the English army, but of every army in the world." The speaker dwelt strongly upon the sympathy between the two countries, and expressed hopes that they would always be friends.

Emperor William's Visit to Rome.
Copyright, 1888, by the New York Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 25.—The Emperor William will not visit the Vatican unless the Vatican authorities arrange that there shall be no semblance in the ceremony of superiority. The Vatican in the meantime declines to make an exception of the new German Emperor. The Cologne Gazette says the attitude of the Pope represents an absolute abandonment of the papacy. No European power now claims to support its pretensions to be the spiritual guide of the people. Despite the attitude of the Vatican, Emperor William personally desires to see the Pope. Arrangements have been made at the Vatican to receive the Emperor. General Crispien, in supporting it, said: "General Sheridan enlisted the sympathy and admiration not only of the English army, but of every army in the world." The speaker dwelt strongly upon the sympathy between the two countries, and expressed hopes that they would always be friends.

The Bulgarian Throne.
Copyright, 1888, by the New York Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 25.—The Emperor of Russia, the Princess of Wales and all the royalties of Denmark will meet on next Tuesday at the palace of the Duke of Cumberland, at Garmisch, in Austria. It is surmised that the meeting relates to the project of the Czar and the Emperor William to create a monarchy of Bulgaria and Rumania, with the Duke of Cumberland as King. After reflecting upon the first overture made to him for the acceptance of the throne of Bulgaria, further developments have induced the Duke of Cumberland to reconsider his determination, and it is probable that, if secured of the support of the great powers combined, and the extension of the Bulgarian kingdom to the Aegean sea, according to the treaty of San Stefano, he will accept. Turkey is supposed to oppose the carrying out of the scheme. The Porte's treasury is absolutely empty.

The Sultan's Illness.
Copyright, 1888, by the New York Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 25.—Three German generals—Hebe, Retew and Knapshorn—who were employed by the Sultan in the War Office, have been forced to retire, unpaid. When they were engaged their contracts stipulated that they should be treated in the same way as the diplomatic service, sharing in the special credit opened at the Imperial Ottoman Bank. The Sultan's treasury continued to draw upon this credit until the bank was obliged to close the account. The German officers shared the fate of the Porte's ministers as the European court, and never got a penny of their salaries. The Sultan, in the meantime, continues in his prodigal course of vast personal expenses for harem households.

Russian Intrigues in the East.
Copyright, 1888, by the New York Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 25.—Advisers from Moscow state that the Russian government is laying its opportunity offered by England's troubles in Tibet to send an agent on a special mission to Thessa, to stir up a quarrel. General Protopopov has been ordered to start next Monday on an exploring expedition to Thessa, and has been instructed to try making a trade route from eastern Turkistan to Tibet. He was warned against having a numerous suite, which would be suggestive of annexation. General Protopopov will therefore limit the expedition to twenty-three persons, including two Cossacks.

Foreign Notes.
Barry Sullivan is dying at Brighton. He has received the last sacraments, and is now unconscious.

Count Andrássy is getting better. His illness is grave, combined with a chill of the throat. The Countess Helene, who has been at his bedside, although feverish, is not in a dangerous condition.

Dowager Empress Victoria has finally brought the Schleswig-Tennessen in Sax-Coburg-Gotha. It is doubtful if she will leave her home, but she has been ordered to start next Monday on an exploring expedition to Thessa, and has been instructed to try making a trade route from eastern Turkistan to Tibet. He was warned against having a numerous suite, which would be suggestive of annexation. General Protopopov will therefore limit the expedition to twenty-three persons, including two Cossacks.

Lawrence Oliphant's disease is a severe attack of pleurisy, complicated with diphtheria and decubies. The doctors have ordered complete rest as the only hope of his recovery. His wife is anxious to remove him to his home, but his physicians take a very gloomy view of the results of the journey, and he is likely that he will remain in hospital.

An eccentric will be tested in the courts at Perth in December. A physician, Dr. M. Goldberger-de-Buda, left $250,000 to accumulate for the benefit and posterity until the latest would suffice to relieve destitute persons. The trustees calculated that they could effect a distribution when the capital reached $1,000,000, but they declined to do so, and the estate was contested by claimants in America, London and Madrid.

Fatal Fight Between Cattlemen.
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25.—Advice from St. Louis worth details of a fatal encounter at Arlington, Tex., between Joe Elliott and a cowboy, Spear, wealthy cattleman and farmer, over the sale of a lot of cattle. Elliott was armed with a shotgun and Spear with a knife. The fight was fatally wounded, and died from his fatal blood. Elliott escaped unhurt. Both have large families and were highly respected. Elliott, a well-known character, was a cowboy named Martin was shot in the neck. The shot was exchanged, Spear, who was a cowboy, was shot in the chest with one hand after being shot in the right shoulder.

Immortality in the Cemetery.
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—Rumors are current, most of whom are engaged in the Front street, in the vicinity of the cemetery, that an accident occurred, and the body of a young man was found in the cemetery. The accident occurred last night in a place where a number of people in the cemetery.

Killed His Own Wife.
RIDGEFIELD, Conn., Aug. 25.—Dr. A. C. Smith, a leading citizen, resided on North street, while temporarily insane, shot his wife and then took his own life this morning at 11 o'clock.
